

THE LORD HAS COME

JOE BLUSTIN, SAMUEL LANE, MATT WEEKS & DAN WEEKS

Oh that night in Bethlehem
When heaven opened wide to sing
And herald that the Word had come to us
A baby born into the night
Crying out and breathing life
Naked in the arms of mother's love

Rejoice, o rejoice
The Lord has come, the Lord has come
Rejoice, o rejoice
The Lord has come, the Lord has come, to us

Wise men bowed before the King
To bring prophetic offerings
Could they truly know what they had seen?
So mighty yet so vulnerable
This baby boy would die for all
And rise again to be enthroned as King

Glory to the newborn King, let every heart rejoice
Word made flesh we bow before him, holy Jesus Christ
Glory to the newborn King, let every heart rejoice
Sing with choirs of heaven's angels, Jesus glorify
