

TO THE EDGE

JODIE ALEXANDER-FRYE

You are in the stillness, you are in the silence
You are in the depths, God, you're with me
You are in the laughter, you are in the sadness
And in the space in between, God, you're with me
And you see everything that is lost

Falling, falling, into your arms
I am breaking, but here I find you waiting
You walk with me, to the edge of the emptiness
Right to the edge

You are in the darkness, here in my confusion
In the dead of night, God, you're with me
There at the beginning, you see every ending
I cannot understand, but God, you're with me
And you see everything that is lost

God you're with me, God you're with me
